Dear Mr. Deepak Jaikishan,

I act for Mr. Balasubramaniam a/l Perumal, also known as PI Bala.

My client has informed me that he has been approached by your goodself and one ASP Suresh to prepare an audio visual recording of a script prepared by yourself and/or your servants or agents, the contents of which are within your knowledge and securely stored in my lap top and the lap tops of both Mr. Manjeet Singh Dhillon and Mr. Amarjit Singh Sidhu, the other counsel representing PI Bala.

My client further informs me that in consideration of the preparation, transmission and subsequent planned airing of this audio visual recording on Malaysian prime time television on Wednesday 20th April 2011, you offered him the following inducements:

1. A sum of RM100,000.00 to be paid in cash.
2. The transfer of property known as Apartment A-19-11(D), 19th Floor, Tower A, Berjaya Times Square, Jalan Imbi, Kuala Lumpur, into the name of my clients wife, valued at RM500,000.00.

My client further informs me that you have caused to be transferred into his wife's account with the EON Bank, Kuala Lumpur, a sum of RM100,000.00 in cash on the 20 April 2011, and have secured the signature of the Vendors of the above mentioned apartment on a Sale & Purchase Agreement to my clients wife as the Purchaser, dated the 19 April 2011.

Please be informed that my client is not desirous of accepting your kind offer and as such is declining to proceed with the events as planned for the simple reason that the script you have prepared for him contains very many factual mistruths and in no way reflects the correct sequence of events my client has been involved in, which have taken place since July 2008.

In the circumstances, my clients wife will not proceed to execute the aforementioned Sale & Purchase Agreement and also seeks to return the RM100,000.00 paid into her EON Bank account to your goodself.

Please could you therefore forward to me your bank account details so that I may be able to arrange for the refund of the RM100,000.00 to you.

My client and his family are also desirous of returning to Malaysia in the near future and seek your assistance in utilizing your good offices and connections to ensure that their body and souls remain intact and that they also remain free from any form of harassment both official and unofficial.

I trust you appreciate the situation and as such I look forward to your immediate response.

Yours faithfully,

Americk Sidhu

Dear Mr. Deepak Jaikishan,

I refer to my email of the 24 April 2011.

I would be most obliged to receive your early response as my client is concerned that there is a sum of RM100,000.00 sitting in his wife's account which he is unable to account for.

If you are unable to confirm that you actually banked in this amount into his wife's account then my client will have to undertake further investigations as to the source of these funds.

If these investigations prove to be futile then my clients only course of action would be to assume they belong to his wife.

In the circumstances I would be obliged if you could revert to me in the next 24 hours either confirming or denying these funds belong to you to enable my client to proceed to return them to you or deal with them as he deems fit.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Americk Sidhu
